This is an awareness-raising workshop on the challenges facing trans workers in communities, workplaces, and unions. How can unions work to end discrimination and support our trans members? This introductory talk includes an overview of appropriate words to use, existing legal protections, and what we as union activists can do to make sure our workplaces and our unions are as inclusive as possible to transgender, non binary and gender non-conforming folx.

7:00 pm – 9:00 pm

KAIROS Blanket Exercise with VIU Elders

(Sign up at registration – Maximum 25 people)

The KAIROS Blanket Exercise is a reconciliation workshop that uses blankets to represent the lands of what is now called Canada, and the distinct cultures and nations that live on those lands to this day. Participants represent the First Peoples. When they move onto the blankets, they are taken back in time to the arrival of the Europeans. The Narrator and facilitators will work with the participants to read a script while the exercise goes through the history of treaty-making, colonization and resistance that resulted in the nation we today call Canada.

Guests

Sheila Malcomson

Elected in 2015, Sheila is an experienced leader working to deliver positive results as the Member of Parliament for Nanaimo—Ladysmith.

Sheila is known for bringing people from different backgrounds together around a common cause: workers, small businesses, First Nations, community groups, students. She entered Parliament with 12 years of constituency experience under her belt, having been elected four times to local government.

Sheila has been a proud Nanaimo—Ladysmith resident for more than 20 years. She lives on Gabriola Island with her partner Howard, a fisheries biologist and climate change researcher.

Trevor Davies

Trevor Davies is Secretary-Treasurer of CUPE BC. He was first elected as General Vice President in July of 2010 after serving on the executive board since 2009. He is the former President of CUPE Local 374, representing more than 600 members in six municipalities in the Greater Victoria area.

Davies has been involved in a number of CUPE BC committees including Environment, Municipal, Young Workers, OH & S and Library Committees.

Trevor has been involved in the past with the BC Federation of Labour as a Facilitator for the High School OH & S project, as a volunteer, working on the $10 minimum wage campaign and speaking at public hearings on the New and Young Worker Regulation reviews with WorkSafe BC.

He is currently alternate Trustee for the Municipal Pension Plan since 2014.

Davies is also an alumnus of the University of Victoria, the Labour College of Canada and the Governor General Leadership Conference.

Joey Hartman

Recently retired, Joey was the first female President of the Vancouver District Labour Council representing 60,000 workers who belong to over 110 affiliated unions in the Vancouver area.

Joey's experience as a labour and community activist began on the picket line during a 14-week Vancouver area civic strike in 1981. That strike resulted in some pay equity redress. She is also keenly interested in labour history, international solidarity and broad based community organizing.

While VDLC president, Joey is on leave from her position as staff representative with the Hospital Employee's Union where she handled grievances, arbitration, negotiations, local building and other matters.

Joey also serves on several boards including:

- BC Labour Heritage Centre
- Pacific Northwest Labour History Association
- On-to-Ottawa Historical Society
- SFU Labour Studies Program Advisory Committee
- Metro Vancouver Alliance
- United Way of the Lower Mainland
- BC Employment Standards Coalition

Facilitators

Nathan Allen

Nathan's work experience includes serving as Ministerial Assistant to Minister Jenny Kwan in the Ministry of Community Development, Co-operatives and Volunteers in the last BC NDP Government; as a fundraiser, organizer, communicator, and manager in a multitude of federal, provincial and municipal elections; as a front line mental health and addictions outreach worker with PHS Community Services Society; and as Manager of Pigeon Park Savings (Vancity branch 48) that continues to provide financial services to low-income residents of Vancouver's Downtown Eastside.

Nathan was also coordinator of the campaign to stop the Harper government from closing InSite, North America's first supervised injection site.

His most recent campaign experience was as the Campaign Manager for the BC NDP's Melanie Mark, successfully elected in 2016 in a by-election in Vancouver-Mount Pleasant, and as the Regional Manager for all Vancouver BC NDP campaigns in the 2017 BC election.

In 2013, Nathan was awarded a Queen's Diamond Jubilee Medal for community service by then Member of Parliament Libby Davies. He currently works as the Community Elections Coordinator for CUPE National in BC.

Joey Hartman

Joey's experience as a labour and community activist began on the picket line during a 14-week Vancouver area civic strike in 1981. That strike resulted in some pay equity redress. She is also keenly interested in labour history, international solidarity and broad based community organizing.

Robin Folvik

Robin Folvik is a writer, holds a degree in Women's Studies, and is currently working on a number of projects focusing on the history of work and workers in British Columbia.

Robin is a founding member of the Graphic History Collective. She has a love of learning, a strong background in history and women's studies, with a focus on feminist histories, and British Columbia's working people, labour struggles, and social movements.

Robin has a passion for translating academic knowledge to reach a broader public, and has worked on films, curriculum development, walking tours, and public history installations through her position as Research Director at the BC Labour Heritage Centre, where she has worked since 2008.

Adrienne Smith

Adrienne Smith is a human rights activist and drug policy lawyer. Adrienne currently works as a Regional Representative for the Canadian Labour Congress, where they deliver union education; support the work of regional labour councils; and work to win a Pharmacare plan for everyone.

Adrienne lives and works in the Downtown Eastside where they are working to reduce the harm which law causes on marginalized communities.

Their recent work involves litigation and advocacy on behalf of drug users, prisoners in provincial correctional facilities, and transgender people. They made arguments about the deleterious effects of mandatory minimum sentences on women, aboriginal offenders and drug users at the Supreme Court of Canada and the BC Court of Appeal, in their first two years of call.

They recently settled a BC Supreme Court case which changed provincial prison policy and secured access to opiate replacement therapy for prisoners in BC jails.

They spoke at the Vancouver School Board and Park Board meetings in support of trans inclusion policies. As part of a group of activists they worked to introduce trans inclusion policies in their political party at the provincial and federal levels.

They volunteer in a summary legal advice clinic as part of the Catherine White Holman Wellness Centre, a community health and wellness program organized by and for transgender people. At the centre, they give free human rights, criminal, family, and employment law advice, and notarize name change forms. They also participated in producing the transrightsbc.ca know-your-rights web tool, and they run workshops on this and on other legal issues for service providers and members of their community.

Carlos Carvalho

Starting as a CUPE BC Young Worker Activist 13 years ago and now as a Regional Representative for the Canadian Labour Congress.

Carlos has a passion for communication, community, engagement and education. He currently holds positions both provincially and federally on NDP executives as well as being a executive member of The Union Protein Project and the CLC Representative on the BCFED Education Committee. You can hear more from Carlos on the Labournauts Podcast or by following him on social media @sayhitocarlos

Gayle Nye

Gayle Nye is Labour Coordinator with United Way Greater Victoria.

Previously as a member of the BC Government and Service Employees Union she was an elected officer and Staff fulfilling the positions of Women's Advocate, Equity & Human Rights and Education Officer.

What Gayle enjoys most is working within the labour movement and facilitating for social justice and change. The opportunity to work with CUPE BC is much anticipated and appreciated.

Laurie Whyte

As a CUPE member-facilitator for 18 years. Laurie has facilitated Resolving Conflict, Introduction to Stewarding, Bargaining, Parliamentary Procedures (How to Run an Effective Meeting), Women Breaking Barriers and the Steward Learning Series modules. She loves sharing her experiences facilitating workshops for CUPE members.

Chief Steward for Local 951 for 25 years, Laurie continues to act as a Return to Work & Accommodation Officer assisting members returning to work after a lengthy absence or requiring medical accommodation(s). She is also a member of Local 951's Human Rights & Equity Issues Committee

Outside of her local, Laurie is Chair of the Vancouver Island District Council's Diversity and Resolutions committees as well as Trustee for CUPE BC. Laurie's passions include human rights and equality, as well as horses, dogs and cats.

Michelle Alexander

Michelle has been a member of CUPE Local 15 since 1993 and currently works as a By Law Enforcement Officer for the City of Vancouver. Michelle became a shop steward 11 years ago and has sat on her Local Executive as a Trustee and a Member at Large for the City sector as well as being a delegate to Metro District Council.

A CUPE BC Executive member since 2011, Michelle served her first term as an Alternate Diversity Vice President and is currently in her third term as Diversity Vice President. Michelle co-chairs the CUPE BC CARD committee.

Outside of her CUPE roles, Michelle sits on the City of Vancouver's Diversity committee, has spent three years on the Black History Month Committee, and most recently became a board member for the national Congress of Black Women Foundation. Michelle believes in community and a sense of giving back.

Cheryl Colborne

Cheryl Colborne is an Equality Representative with the Canadian Union of Public Employees in British Columbia. She has spent numerous years working with and representing a variety of equity seeking groups.

For the past decade, Cheryl has been a National Servicing Representative for CUPE, and for eight of those years she was the Social Services Coordinator for BC, which included child care. Prior to this she was a legal advocate for six years with the British Columbia Persons with AIDS Society.

Cheryl has also worked in child care for 16 years, fourteen years of which she served as the Executive Director of five very large child care centres which included infants to after school care, play school, and special needs programs and services. For two of those years, Cheryl worked directly with Inuit groups on the development and implementation of quality child care in Nunavut.

Vanessa Wolff

Vanessa M. Wolff is an Education Representative, working out of the BC Regional Office. Prior to coming on staff, she was a CUPE member from Local 2316, Children's Aid Society of Metropolitan Toronto, the largest Child Welfare Agency in North America. There she worked in a variety of roles and was active in her Union as the chair of the Health & Safety Committee on the Executive Board.

Vanessa has always had a passion for Health & Safety, after receiving her first workshop, which familiarised her with her rights in the workplace. That became the flame which ignited many lights in a world which she had never opened the door too.

As a former foster parent of special needs children, she is very much aware of the struggles that exists in the school systems between services that are needed for the children; lack of proper support systems for mental health issues; and balancing the rights of workers for a safe workplace and a job.

Vanessa, immigrated from the Netherlands in 1987 where she worked with the Ministry of Justice. In Holland, there were various systems in place to protect workers from violence in the workplace, and it was a shock when she arrived here, that there was minimal protection for the workers or that they would not exercise their rights.

She is an advisor for the CMHA (Canadian Mental Health Association) on promoting the CSA National Standard on 'Psychological Healthy & Safe Workplaces'.

Sits on the Board of the BCCLA (BC Civil Liberties Association), where she has some soul-searching moments over the past three years, dealing with issues of solitary confinement, dying with dignity – on doctor assisted suicide, policing issues and second-class citizen issues.

Sarah Bjorknas

Sarah is a 25 year member of CUPE Local 23 – Burnaby Civic Employees Union, where she represents Library workers as a Vice President. Sarah has been proud to serve on CUPE local, provincial and national committees for the past 14 years. Sarah is also the Recording Secretary for the metro Vancouver District Council.

As one of three CUPE BC Regional Vice Presidents for Metro Vancouver, she is the chair of both the Municipal and Pensions committees.

As a community activist with a broad range of interests, Sarah tries to bring a critical and intersectional lens to the issues at hand. Building bridges and removing barriers in the pursuit of social justice are what inspire her and give her energy.

Workshop Options

Workshop # 7 (12 hours – 4 modules)

- Understanding Mental Health (3 hours)
- Creating Psychologically Healthy Workplaces (3 hours)
- Understanding Mental Injuries at Work (3 hours)
- Violence Prevention in the Workplace (3 hours)

Workshop Descriptions

Workshop 1: Political Action (12 hours) – Nathan Allen

Workshop participants will learn fundamentals of political action and election campaigns, including:

Why we should be involved in local politics, recruiting and endorsing candidates, campaign communications, working with civic parties and community coalitions, and mobilizing your members to participate in campaigns.

- ✚ Is Your Local ready for the 2018 Municipal Elections?
- ✚ Do you have labour friendly Councillors or Trustees you would like to see elected?
- ✚ Considering running yourself but want to learn more about campaigns?

Workshop 2: Our History As Labour (12 hours) – Joey Hartman & Robin Folvik

Knowing the history of workers and their unions in our region gives context to current struggles and helps us to strategize for the future.

This workshop begins with the indigenous economies that existed long before colonization, and continues through to important events and themes from the 19th and 20th centuries to contemporary issues.

Emphasis will be on Vancouver Island, and in particular the coal mines and martyrdom of Ginger Goodwin in 1918. The often-forgotten significance of racism, women's history and LGBTQ+ issues and influences will also be covered through a variety of informative and creative modules.

Workshop 3: Advanced Steward Training (12 hours) – Adrienne Smith

This is a workshop for experienced activists looking to dive deeper into the legal and practical challenges of stewarding. This course will include:

- ✚ A review of basic stewarding skills
- ✚ Anatomy of a grievance
- ✚ Key legal concepts stewards should know; including Duty to Accommodate and Non Culpable Absenteeism
- ✚ Investigation basics
- ✚ Overview of relevant workplace legislation
- ✚ Research pointers for activists

NOTE: Stewards must have completed Basic Stewarding and should bring a phone or laptop capable of connecting to the internet and a copy of their collective agreement

Workshop 4: Unions Engagement Bridging to Community (12 hours) – Carlos Carvalho & Gayle Nye

For both new and experienced activists, this workshop is intended to give participants tools to better engage and activate fellow union members

- ✚ Learn new organizing skills, survey techniques and communication tips
- ✚ Gain a better understanding of how to access engagement opportunities within the community
- ✚ Learn from each other by sharing our stories and experience

Workshop 5: Women Breaking Barriers (12 hours) – Laurie Whyte & Michele Alexander

Learn about women's oppression, politics and social change – all from a woman's perspective.

- ✚ Explore the barriers, challenges and opportunities for women in the union
- ✚ Discover your own personal leadership style and develop a plan for your personal next step.

NOTE: This workshop is open to members who identify as women.

Workshop 6: Women Speaking Up (12 hours) – Cheryl Colborne

Feel more comfortable “speaking up” in different situations – speeches, meetings, and one-on-one communication.

In this workshop, you will:

- ✚ understand what makes a speech or presentation effective
- ✚ learn and practice tips for dealing with nervousness
- ✚ prepare an outline for a speech or presentation
- ✚ gain experience speaking in front of a supportive group

NOTE: This workshop is open to members who identify as women.

Workshop 7: (Bundled Workshop) NOTE: Four workshops below are One (1) Bundle

Creating Psychologically Healthy and Safe Workplaces (3 hours) - Steward Learning Series

What is a psychologically healthy and safe workplace? Learn to identify the psychological hazards in the workplaces, and the role of the steward in eliminating psychological hazards.

Understanding Mental Health (3 hours) - Steward Learning Series

Explore the steward's role in supporting and representing members around mental health and mental illness. Learn what to do about stigma, and how to approach a conversation with a member about a possible mental health issue.

Violence Prevention In The Workplace (3 hours) - Health & Safety Learning Series

This module examines the risk factors that lead to violence in the workplace, and the employer's obligations around making sure that proper safeguards are in place to prevent members from being exposed to and injured by violence while at work. We will examine relevant health and safety law, and start to develop strategies to make our workplaces safer.

Solidarity Beyond Borders (3 hours) – Health & Safety Learning Series

Health and safety standards are starkly different around the world. Trade deals signed by our government not only keep workers in other countries down, but can also hurt Canadian workers. This module examines a few of the socioeconomic and political realities of the global workforce to illustrate how poor health and safety laws around the world make it harder for us to bring positive change to workers in Canada.
